DOLLARS, SENSE, DIPLOMACY

by J. Edgar Hoover

It is a mistake to think of the dollar as a mere piece of paper. It is a symbol of the American people's faith in their government and their future.

The dollar is the backbone of our economy. It is the lifeblood of our commerce and industry.

We must protect the dollar at all costs. We must maintain its value and its integrity.

The dollar is the pride of our nation. It is the symbol of our strength and our independence.

We must stand by the dollar. We must stand by the principles it represents.

The dollar is the heart of our country. It is the center of our life and our destiny.

We must cherish the dollar. We must cherish the values it stands for.

The dollar is the soul of our nation. It is the spirit of our people and our progress.

We must honor the dollar. We must honor the dreams it inspire.

The dollar is the crown of our kingdom. It is the glory of our empire and our power.

We must defend the dollar. We must defend the future it holds for us.

The dollar is the key to our success. It is the door to our prosperity and our happiness.

We must hold fast to the dollar. We must hold fast to the hope it gives us.

The dollar is the light of our path. It is the guide to our destiny and our fate.

We must follow the dollar. We must follow the lead it gives us.

The dollar is the star of our constellation. It is the beacon of our civilization and our culture.

We must worship the dollar. We must worship the ideals it represent.

The dollar is the God of our religion. It is the source of our faith and our belief.

We must love the dollar. We must love the life it gives us.

The dollar is the love of our life. It is the passion of our hearts and our minds.

We must desire the dollar. We must desire the peace it brings us.

The dollar is the peace of our world. It is the harmony of our nations and our peoples.

We must seek the dollar. We must seek the truth it reveals to us.

The dollar is the truth of our existence. It is the reality of our lives and our actions.

We must know the dollar. We must know the meaning it has for us.

The dollar is the meaning of our journey. It is the purpose of our lives and our efforts.

We must understand the dollar. We must understand the power it holds over us.

The dollar is the power of our nation. It is the strength of our arms and our legs.

We must use the dollar. We must use the wisdom it gives us.

The dollar is the wisdom of our ancestors. It is the knowledge of our fathers and our mothers.

We must learn from the dollar. We must learn from the lessons it teaches us.

The dollar is the lessons of our history. It is the stories of our heroes and our villains.

We must read the dollar. We must read the future it holds for us.

The dollar is the future of our nation. It is the promise of our children and our grandchildren.

We must believe in the dollar. We must believe in the dreams it inspire.

The dollar is the dreams of our people. It is the hopes of our hearts and our minds.

We must dream of the dollar. We must dream of the life it gives us.

The dollar is the life of our nation. It is the spirit of our people and our progress.

We must live for the dollar. We must live for the values it stands for.

The dollar is the values of our culture. It is the principles of our religion and our philosophy.

We must cherish the dollar. We must cherish the dreams it inspire.

holding down the pivot position in fine style with some help of Graves, letterman of '34, Landon White, center from Decaturville, and James Pentecost, Martin boy.

The backfield is the joy of the coaches' eyes. Long, McAdams, Fernstrom, Billy Taylor and Gresson have shown all their cunning and skill of last year and seem ready to go places this fall. Franklin, another returning letterman, has been bothered by a bad knee and hasn't seen much action to date. Robinson, hefty half from Covington, and Hall, Martin boy, have shown the most promise of the first year men. Hall's towering punts have been one of the bright features of the early practices. "Moth Balls" Sturdivant, midget quarter from Whitehaven, Elmer Vaughn, elusive half from Bartlett, Almond, weighty full from Gleason, Herschell Ellis, another Martin boy, George Pinner, shifty half from Covington, Parham, high stepping half from Sharon, and Gordon Wilder, versatile back from Huntingdon, are just waiting to step into the shoes of some faltering regular.

The Junior Vols open their schedule with Arkansas College next Friday. Arkansas College was the Arkansas state champion team last year and stands a good chance of repeating. The Arkansans lost only one game during the entire season.

With footballing almost upon us, three candidates lining up for the race for Louisiana's governorship; the Cubs, Cards and Giants grappling for the National League crown; war still threatening the world; Max Baer still trying to lose poundage before meeting dusky Joe Louis tomorrow p.m.; and numerous other events, the Volette resumes publication on the first day of registration. And isn't the weather torrid? Noticed that they've been drenching the I.C. park with H2O so that youngsters won't get dust in their hair.

Have you a little prognosticator in your family? After much prognostication, we've prognosticated that the following topics make good subjects for prognostication, to wit: Who'll win the World Series? Which is the most fun—listening to the radio, riding a bicycle, or sleeping? How long before the Italo-Ethiopian conflict will break out? What are communists good for? (that requires little thought); Does President Roosevelt like spinach better than eggplant? Did George Washington really cut down that cherry tree? Which comes first—the chicken or the egg? What difference does it make? What'll become of Louisiana? How many grains of rice in a carload? Aw, make up your own questions!

A Chicago newspaper is being picketed because "Little Orphan Annie" is allegedly promoting Fasism. We thought it was just lousiness. The Pittsburgh Pirates are involved in a $20,000 suit with a woman who was socked by a baseball. Dr. George S. Long, brother of the late Huey, is to run for the Senate from Oklahoma. He'll advocate the "Share-Our-Wealth" program. All the rest of the Long Clan has long been hard in its condemnation of the Kingfish's policies. Wheat is now a dollar a bushel. Wayne King may play in Paris next month. The campus may get sidewalks before the year is over. The Volette staff is taking aspirin over the problem of getting its new desks thru the office door.

The entire student body is on the Volette staff, believe it or not. Anything anyone brings will be gladly received and will be published, if possible. They do say that boot-leg milk is being sold in Union City. Knock three times, as for Louie, and say "oogwah". Of the 100,000-odd American Legionnaires in convention at St. Louis, around 1,000 are official delegates. But it's so much fun. Whoopee. See where Miss Eloise Weldon of Dyersburg, is ed-chief of the Triangle at Judson College. Virginia Hudgens of Union City, is also on the staff.

Greetings, by the way, to our old pal, Bud Sorgatz, this year's ed of the Vanderbilt Hustler. He also writes "Alloi Allothen," whatever that means. Come down to God's country someday, Bud, and see a real school. Gosh—it's nearly press-time. And this stuff being needed to fill up space. That's the only reason it's needed. The poor linotype operator has to read it, too. We're planning a drastic campaign against the propaganda of yankees who say that Dixielanders use the term "you-all" when speaking in the singular. Also, against their imitation of Southern colonels on the radio. You yankee U-Ters, please take note. And when you go home, give the folks a true sample of the Southern drawl as it really is. Ho hum. This weather makes you feel sleepish. But we'll stay awake if it kills us. Lots to do. Gotta keep busy. Gotta. Zzzzzz.

The leaves of Turkish tobacco are strung one by one like beads (see how it is done in the picture). After the leaves are strung they are packed in bales (see picture) — sometimes as many as 80,000 leaves to the bale.

We have on hand at all times for CHESTERFIELD cigarettes upwards of 350,000 bales of Turkish tobacco...

The pleasing aroma and flavor of Turkish tobacco is almost necessary if you want a good cigarette.

Turkish tobacco is more costly when you take into account that you have to pay 35c a pound duty, but we have to have it to blend with our mild ripe home-grown tobaccos.

It helps make Chesterfields milder, it helps give them better taste. Just try them.

Outstanding

GREETINGS

versity expecting much from it. You come expecting to give much to it. If none falters we shall attain this end.

What do you expect of The University of Tennessee Junior College? You expect faculty instruction second to none in the state. Your State University has provided you with a faculty competent to meet this expectation. You expect to find on the campus of the Junior College a social life that takes into full consideration the social needs of young men and young women students of today. You will find the energies of a strong faculty committee, rounding out and conducting this program. You expect from physical education a program that will not allow your body, the foundation of your life, to want for any of its needs, a program tried, tested and improved to guarantee you the best in physical education; a part of the service made available to you by your state. You expect the extra curricular activities of this branch of the University to touch all of the interesting phases of the life of professions, business and society. Many clubs and organizations are a part of the general program operated through your own energy and ingenuity under the guidance of faculty sponsors. You expect the moral and the spiritual phases which sustain an individual, a family, a state or a nation to be in evidence in and through the entire program of the school.

The men and women comprising the faculty are without exception of high ideals and possess an interest in the eternal virtues of man. You expect The University of Tennessee Junior College to present the pictures of life to you—the academic phase, the social phase, the physical phase, the aesthetic phase. The University is anxious always to present effectively to the whole man the whole of life; emphasis necessarily being placed upon instruction and scholarship but with no omission of enduring principles.

What does The University of Tennessee expect of you? We expect, first, a sincerity of purpose. Second, hard work. The state of Tennessee, through its own University, has made available for you a remarkable educational unit in this branch of the State University at Martin. It expects to be the beneficiary of your noble endeavors. It expects of you hard work and hard work always brings the real results. Third, loyalty. Having planned wisely over a period of 141 years, The University of Tennessee is worthy of your utmost confidence and loyalty. A study of the history of the University reveals all of the elements necessary for a well-formed loyalty and admiration. If you are ever loyal to work you have a great state institution as a friend and benefactor.

It is not always easy for young people to fully comprehend a rare opportunity. There are at least from four to five young men and young women to each one of you enrolling in the University perhaps as capable and as worthy who do not have this great chance for self-improvement. This condition existing in the state and country places an obligation upon you all the more heavily. We are painfully conscious of a host of worthy young people denied the opportunity to study with us. The faculty obligations are all the more heavy because of this condition.

The University faculty comes to its task thoroughly trained and experienced. It is qualified to give you the best in instruction. It is not content to stop there. It is qualified also to supply your needs for physical, social and aesthetic being. The faculty will be disappointed if you fail to solicit their concern in the solution of your college life problems. As students you should keep uppermost in your minds the fact that your fathers, mothers and guardians are tremendously interested in everything you do. The profound interest of the more than 500 fathers and mothers represented by you students is very necessary to the success of the year's program. A faculty of two dozen men and women does not purpose to supplant the fathers and mothers of its students, but we seek from them through you students the greatest contribution and interest throughout every day of the year. A dangerous situation arises when a young man or young woman seeks to deceive the father and mother. No student may hope to do his best without the sympathetic and continuing interest of the parents.

The executive office is continually open and discussions with you of the problems incident to college life welcomed. You should feel a full measure of freedom to visit the executive office and to offer your suggestions to the administration for improvement of the services of the instruction and to receive contributions toward your own personal improvement.

Let us reject with positiveness all influences and factors that undercut. Let us together draw upon all influences and factors that will aid us in the preservation of a noble University history, in making the most of a challenging present and in writing of a certainty, a magnificent future.

STUDENT PARTIES PLANNED

Local churches are planning welcoming parties for the students of U.T.J.C. These parties are for students of all religious denominations, being primarily get-acquainted parties.

The First Baptist Church is holding open house for the students on Tuesday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Thursday night, the All-Student Club and Joe Brown are giving a theatre party for the school. The student body will meet on the campus at 7:30 and go in a body to the Capitol Theatre.

Friday night is the first football game of the season.

Saturday night the Methodist church, through the Epworth League, are giving a get-acquainted party, at which there will be games, speeches and refreshments. The school encourages the students to attend these meetings and parties so as to become familiar with the people and churches of Martin.

WEATHER

The weather this week will be hot under Freshman collars, damp on the teachers' brows, rough on the football field, windy with the Sophs, and dry in most classrooms.

Any silly nonsense sounds reasonable to a girl if you put it in the form of a love letter, but talk is cheaper.

Say "black bugs blood" five times as fast as you can articulate.
